

2021 Honda Civic 4D Sedan EX Diminished Value Case Study

Friday, December 23, 2022.

Those who enjoy spacious interiors and unique designs will enjoy the 2021 Civic EX edition, which combines the best of both worlds.

The 2020 Civic 2.0-liter Sedan EX is a great compact car with no shortage of options. Both the 2.0-liter engine and the 1.5-liter turbocharged engine offer plenty of modern convenience features like adaptive cruise control and lane-keeping assist- even at the base LX model, radio tuning and minor other features are included. We've found that this car is great for most buyers no matter their budget for a new vehicle.

In addition to Active Cruise Control and Lane-Keeping Assist, the new Civic EX has Emergency Braking and other luxurious features. In addition to safety features, it comes with a state-of-the-art infotainment system that includes Apple CarPlay/Android Auto, Bluetooth, Pandora, and 2 USB ports. An interactive 7-inch touchscreen screen combines these features.

Besides its modern appearance, the Civic's interior is spacious and offers ample storage. While it doesn't offer the most optional comfort-and-convenience equipment in the compact class, it offers enough to satisfy any small car shopper. In addition to the large trunk, the Civic is equipped with many cleverly designed storage cubbies throughout the cabin.

When it comes to safety, with a multi-angle rearview camera and Honda LaneBoundary lane departure assistance, this Honda Civic is unbeatable.
